TAFT DEFENDS THE CANAL COMMISSION

Answers Recent Bitter Criticism at Request of President--Throws More Light on the Work at the Isthmus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. [illegible] charges against the Panama canal commission [illegible] secretary Taft. It is [illegible] said his attention had been drawn to an article published in Panama [illegible] been written by Poindexter Dunn, [illegible] taking the administration of affairs by the canal commission [illegible] self on the isthmus and adding:

"Will you please advise me what basis, if any, there is for the charges?"

Discussing the conditions on the isthmus the secretary quotes Mr. [illegible] saying that everyone knows [illegible] been on the ground that the [illegible] draining the city is one of extreme difficulty owing to the island being surrounded by the sea on one side and by [illegible]

HOTEL FIRE RESULTS IN EIGHT DEATHS AND INJURY TO MANY

All Fatalities Caused by Suffocation or Leaping From Windows---Brave Fireman Sacrifices His Life to Save Aged Woman---List of Dead and Injured.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 10.—Eight persons are dead from suffocation or from leaping from windows and a score of people were more or less injured as the result of a fire in the West hotel early this morning. The dead are:

CAPTAIN JOHN BERWIN, of truck No. 1, fell from the fourth floor to the sidewalk while attempting to save Mrs. Barlow's life.

W. C. NICKELLS, Minneapolis chamber of commerce, suffocated in his room on the sixth floor.

THOMAS SUMMERVILLE, Springfield, Mass., suffocated in his room on the sixth floor.

CLINTON S. LAMME, New York, suffocated in his room on the seventh floor.

J. S. PFENSIGER, New York, jumped from the seventh story window.

MRS. M. E. HODGES, Minneapolis, jumped from the fourth story window.

WILLIAM BLACK, New York, suffocated in room.

The seriously injured are: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spiesberger, Chicago; overcome by smoke; Mary Rowa, maid at hotel, overcome by smoke; N. S. Aniseden, superintendent Minneapolis and Northern Elevator company, seriously burned; Gordon G. Sapp, Chicago, overcome by smoke; Ben W. Swisky, Chicago, overcome by smoke; Mrs. B. D. Barlow, Los Angeles, injured while being rescued, critical condition; Alice Larson, maid in hotel, injured by jumping from the fifth floor by roof of Unique building.

The fire, which is supposed to have been caused by crossed electric wires, was in itself insignificant, being confined to the elevator shaft and the top floor in the corner of the building, but the wild excitement which followed the first alarm hurried people into the halls and out upon window ledges in a frantic attempt to save themselves. The financial loss will not exceed $30,000.

Captain John Berwin, who lost his life in saving the life of Mrs. Barlow of Los Angeles, was one of the first firemen to climb into the burning building. Ascending to the seventh floor on a scaling ladder, he stumbled upon the unconscious form of Mrs. Barlow. The aged woman had groped her way to the stairway only to succumb to the smoke. Grasping the lady, Captain Berwin pushed out onto the window ledge to carry his burden down the ladder. Between the seventh and sixth floors the strap broke. Bending over to balance the body of the woman a moment, the fireman leaned forward at the risk of his life, and gathering himself for a supreme effort, hurled the woman toward a projecting ledge on the floor below. Mrs. Barlow had been revived by the cold air and she grasped the projection and held on. In making the throw Captain Berwin lost his balance and was dashed to his death on the pavement. Mrs. Barlow was rescued by another fireman.

HOUSE TALKS TARIFF AGAIN; SENATE PASSES MINOR BILLS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A vigorous speech in favor of the Philippine tariff bill by Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania opened the proceedings in the house today. It was followed by several others against the measure, most notable of which was a two-hour address by the veteran statesman, Mr. Keifer of Ohio, an ex-speaker, who returns to the house after a retirement of twenty years. Mr. Keifer bespoke "stand pat" doctrine of the most pronounced type, and said he should oppose the pending bill because it was a concession to Democratic principles. His speech was replete with recollections of earlier days and received the closest attention and liberal applause from both sides of the chamber.

Just before the session closed the incident of the ejection from the executive offices of Mrs. Minor Morris was made the subject of discussion by Mr. Sheppard of Texas. A brief reply was made by Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio, who deprecated sending out sensational reports regarding the American administration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The senate made it plain today that it had yesterday all it wants to hear of the present Moroccan question. There were two opportunities to resume consideration of the subject but they were avoided, apparently with the assent of all the members, and the senate adjourned at a comparatively early hour rather than take it up.

Notwithstanding the early adjournment, a great deal of business was disposed of. About 80 bills were passed, leaving on the calendar only six or seven measures. Of the bills passed, a large majority grant private pensions, and many were bridge bills. One of the bills favorably acted upon appropriates $200,000 for the appropriate marking of the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in northern prisons during the Civil war.

For the rest of the session the senate gave attention in turn to the question of the salaries paid to Panama canal officials, to the pure food bill and the merchant marine shipping bill, but without taking action on either of those subjects.

The canal subject was discussed by Mr. Simmons and the pure food bill by Mr. Heyburn. The only action taken on the shipping bill was that of reading it at length.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

VIENNA, Jan. 10.—A slight shock of earthquake was recorded here last night. It caused no damage.

OIL COMPANY TO BUILD PIPE LINE ACROSS THE CANAL ZONE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Secretary Taft has recommended to the president that he sanction the issue of a revocable license to the United Oil company of California to construct and maintain a pipe line across the canal zone. There were six applicants, but the company named is the only one which specified the price of oil if used by the government and whose offer was otherwise definite and reasonable. It is, however, expressly provided that the license shall not be exclusive, so that other companies may hereafter compete for the business.

For its part the company undertakes to pay $500 per month to be applied to school purposes in the canal zone and also to permit the government to draw upon its pipe line at any point for oil at 80 cents a barrel. Secretary Taft explains that this is about equivalent for fuel purposes to Pocohontas coal at the present cost on the isthmus of $4 per ton, so that the oil may be used for all power purposes if desired in the construction of the canal. As only refined oils at present are carried over the Panama railroad, the secretary does not fear that the transportation of crude oil by pipe would injure the business of the railroad.

The company undertakes to complete the line by August 1, next and to build in American ship yards suitable tank steamers to supply, in addition to its present large fleet the necessary means of conveying oil to the line.

STATEHOOD BILL MAY BE DELAYED

SPEAKER CANNON IS NOT YET CERTAIN HOW REPUBLICANS ARE LINED UP.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Opposition among the Republican members of the house to the Hamilton joint statehood bill seems to be making little headway. The leaders of the insurgents have prepared a pledge for the signature of Republicans who will vote to defeat a rule preventing amendments to the Hamilton bill. This was freely circulated today among the opponents to joint statehood and is now said to bear forty-five signatures. About twenty Republican members are undecided on the statehood fight and the struggle to win them by the opposing factions is waxing hot. The insurgents insist that many of their sympathizers have not yet had an opportunity to sign the pledge and claim that they will readily obtain more than sixty names. Administration supporters declare the total strength of their opponents is not much more than forty.

An urgent deficiency bill will be ready for the consideration of the house in a few days and it is now expected that this will be laid before the house after the Philippine tariff bill has been disposed of, as the leaders are said to be anxious to delay the statehood bill until Speaker Cannon is more certain how the Republican members stand on the measure.

JAIL BREAKERS ARE RECAPTURED

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Jan. 10.—John McKinney and Jim Clouse, two of the three jail breakers who made their escape Monday night, are again behind the bars of the county jail. Sheriff McCreery got in with them from the mountains this evening. He captured them single-handed in Stonewall canon, about 30 miles northwest of Fort Collins, where they had gone into concealment to eat their dinner. The sheriff discovered them and hid himself at the mouth of the canon, and as the men came out he brought his gun to bear on them and demanded, "Hands up." The prisoners were taken completely by surprise and they were handcuffed and brought into town without trouble. Nothing is known as to the whereabouts of Colburn, as he separated from his companions the night of the escape.

PRESIDENT MORALES IS TO BE ARRESTED

SAN DOMINGO, Jan. 10.—The supreme court today transmitted to the minister of the interior an order for the arrest of President Morales and his followers. The authorities do not know the whereabouts of Morales.

News received from the interior is favorable to the government. Quiet prevails in this city and neighborhood.

DETROIT CAPITALIST DIES AT SEATTLE.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 10.—R. J. McLaughlin, a capitalist from Detroit, Mich., dropped dead in his room in the Washington hotel shortly before 5 o'clock tonight. He had been ailing for several months and death is believed to have resulted from rheumatism of the heart. McLaughlin had lived in Seattle for about seven months. A wife and daughter survive him.

DELAY GIVES RISE TO WRECK REPORT.

OGDEN, Jan. 10.—Fast Mail No. 3, leaving here this afternoon at 3:15, was delayed eighteen minutes nine miles west of Montello by a breakdown on the engine. A new engine was procured from Montello and the train proceeded. The delay gave rise to a report that a wreck had occurred.

TRYING TO BURN CANON

ORGANIZED GANG OF FIREBUGS STILL AT WORK. CITIZENS ARE ALARMED.

FIFTEENTH ATTEMPT AT INCENDIARISM—TRIED TO FIRE SOUTH PARK LAST NIGHT.

CANON CITY, Colo., Jan. 10. [illegible] attempt to fire the south park, a [illegible] dollar plant, marks the fifteenth attempt to incendiarize Canon City in the [illegible] weeks and convinces [illegible] that an organized gang of firebugs is trying to burn [illegible]. Three men were seen [illegible] away from the south park [illegible] first upon by guards [illegible] fired. Investigations showed the fact that a pile of inflammable material had been placed inside the building and if [illegible] had the men succeeded in getting away unseen no doubt the fire would have gained such headway before being discovered as to have made it impossible to extinguish it before great damage had been wrought. The town is up in arms and patrols of citizens and hired guards are on duty nightly. Electric lights have been [illegible] through alleys and carrying districts to aid in guarding property. The citizens declare if the fire fiends are caught they will be lynched.

ORCHARD'S CASE MAY BE PUT OFF

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 10.—The defense in the case of Harry Orchard, accused of assassinating former Governor Steunenberg, has asked for a postponement of the preliminary hearing for a week. It has not been accorded to, but attorneys for the prosecution are holding a conference tonight for the purpose of determining when to proceed. The chemists have not completed the analysis of the powders found in Orchard's room, and it is thought the hearing will be postponed a short time on that account. It was expected tomorrow, but it will not be held before Friday and perhaps not this week.

James McParland arrived this evening from Denver. He is in conference with the government service. It is understood that the famous detective was asked to come here to give advice in the situation and assist in arrangements for enlarging the force of men at work on the alleged conspiracy may be run down in all its ramifications.

BRACKETT STILL AFTER CHAUNCEY

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Senator Brackett's resolution requesting the resignation of Senator Chauncey M. Depew was the only feature of the senate session tonight, although it was not introduced after all and the expectation of another sensational attack upon and defense of Senator Depew was disappointed. The senate had run through its order of business in 15 minutes and Senator Raines moved to adjourn. Senator Brackett declared it was done to "choke off" his resolution, everybody knowing he said, that he was going to introduce the resolution tonight in accordance to his announcement when the resolution was before the senate last week.

"No such announcement was made," interjected a senator.

"Oh, very well," said Senator Brackett, "tomorrow will do as well as tonight."

Senator Brackett then declared that he would yet put the senate on record on his resolution.

MARSHALL FIELD IS CRITICALLY ILL

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—While no official statement could be obtained from the physicians, it was rumored tonight that a grave change had taken place in the condition of Marshall Field of Chicago, who is ill at the Holland house in this city. Dr. James, the attending physician, late tonight summoned in consultation Dr. E. G. Janeway and Dr. Austin B. Riggs. All three physicians were with the patient for a long time and afterward held an extended consultation. Mr. Field earlier in the day was said to be suffering from a severe cold.

VICTOR WANTS TO BUY 60,000,000 GALLONS OF WATER

Special to The Gazette.

VICTOR, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the board of aldermen tonight Mayor J. B. Cunningham was empowered to negotiate with the city of Colorado Springs for the purchase of 60,000,000 gallons of water and for the settlement of the suit pending between this city and Colorado Springs.

IRRIGATORS FEDERATION

NEW ORGANIZATION FORMED WITH FORMER NEW MEXICO GOVERNOR AS PRESIDENT.

[illegible] The Arkansas [illegible] Federation is the name [illegible] organization formed by representatives of the irrigation states who met in Denver today. Among the objects of the federation set forth in an official statement issued by the organization are [illegible] to promote a general [illegible] the irrigation interests of the [illegible] and to [illegible] the interests of irrigated areas [illegible] for acts of congress [illegible] the adjustment of [illegible] and the reclamation of [illegible]

JUDGE TO DECIDE TECHNICAL POINT

ANNAPOLIS COURT MARTIAL ADJOURNS A DAY TO AWAIT DECISION.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 10.—After an attempt lasting over an hour to arrive at exact conclusions as to how far an upper classman could be compelled to testify as to his knowledge of hazing incidents in a case in which another midshipman is charged with "encouraging or countenancing hazing," the court martial now engaged in the trial of Midshipman Decatur, Jr., at the naval academy, rendered no decision and adjourned until tomorrow, when the judge advocate is expected to inform the court in the matter.

The point came up after Midshipman P. R. Marzoni had objected to answering questions as to hazing which, it is alleged, had gone on before him. In the former court martial of Midshipman Decatur, Marzoni testified that he was present when Fourth Classman Church was hazed by being compelled to do "No. 10," and that Decatur was present. Proof of active participation in hazing was necessary to fix that charge. In the present trial, however, "encouraging or countenancing hazing" is charged and it is claimed that no midshipman who was actually present, particularly a first classman, could testify without incriminating himself.

HEMENWAY IS ELECTED AGAIN

DENVER, Jan. 10.—The Colorado and Wyoming Retail Lumber Dealers association concluded its convention today. Following are the officers elected: President, E. W. Hurlbut, Denver; vice president, J. C. Hill, Cripple Creek; secretary and treasurer, H. H. Hemenway, Colorado Springs. An executive committee and a board of directors were also chosen.

The most important action taken today was the naming of a legislative committee and an agreement to go after a demurrage law from the next legislature. The committee named is Senator W. L. Clayton of Greeley, President Hurlbut and Secretary Hemenway. The railroads charge a demurrage of $1 a car after forty-eight hours. It is a big tax on the lumber men, and they propose to have a law that will give them a longer time to empty cars after receiving them.

ROCK ISLAND ROAD SNOWBOUND AGAIN

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 10.—After being open two days, following a week's blockade, the Rock Island's southwestern line was again snowbound today and all trains are tied up. Meantime El Paso and all southern Arizona towns and smelters supplied with coal from the Dawson coal fields are experiencing a fuel famine.

EMPEROR GIVES AUDIENCE TO BRITISH AMBASSADOR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—The retiring British ambassador, Sir Charles Hardinge, had a farewell audience of the emperor today and presented him letters of recall.

No steps have been taken during Sir Charles' stay here relative to the proposed Anglo-Russian understanding. Great Britain is stated to have postponed the question of a definition of the spheres of influence on the borders and Indian frontiers until the new regime is inaugurated in Persia.

OTTO FEHRINGER IS CONVICTED BY JURY

Law-Defying Druggist Found Guilty of Violating Liquor Ordinances for Third Time and Fined $100--Zobrist Trial Today.

Otto Fehringer [illegible] by a jury of his peers [illegible] liquor in violation [illegible] last night. The jury was out [illegible] minutes and returned a verdict of guilty. This is the third time Mr. Fehringer has been convicted on similar charges and several cases against him are pending. Another case for this term of court and will be reached next week.

The trial of Charles Zobrist for selling liquor in less than quarts will be taken up in county court today.

This is the sixth conviction in county court since September and four of [illegible] been convicted by [illegible] mutually [illegible] enough to have another [illegible] Robinson said last night. "[illegible] are quoting all the progress [illegible] that we are making all the progress that reasonably could be expected. The boast of some of the druggists and their attorneys that no twelve men could be found in El Paso county to convict them of their flagrant violation of the law do not seem to be justified. We will go right on with the prosecution taking up Fehringer's case against Mr. Zobrist today."

Mr. Zobrist has been twice convicted in the county court, while J. H. Harrison has been convicted once. Fehringer was convicted yesterday of violating the law at 431 South Tejon street. The case which comes up against him next week is for an alleged infraction of the law at 24 South Tejon.

DR. WILLIAM RAINEY HARPER ANSWERS DEATH'S SUMMONS

Succumbs to Cancer of the Intestines After Long Suffering---Has Been President of Chicago University Since Its Inception---A Leading Educator.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Dr. William Rainey Harper, president of the University of Chicago since its inception, one of the foremost educators and one of the most learned Hebrew scholars of his time, died today of cancer of the intestines.

Three years ago Dr. Harper underwent an operation for appendicitis, and symptoms were then discovered which led the surgeons to suspect that graver troubles might arise in the future, but they were then of too indefinite a character to permit of an operation, and it was not until February 23, 1905, that an operation was resorted upon to determine the nature and cause of severe abdominal pains from which he had suffered for several months. Dr. McBurney of New York, the famous specialist in abdominal surgery, came to Chicago expressly for the operation, in which he was assisted by Drs. Billings and Revan of this city. At the outset of the operation it was discovered that Dr. Harper was suffering from a cancer at the head of the large intestine, and that the malady had progressed so far that an operation which would have removed it would have been fatal to the patient. A brief consultation of the surgeons resulted in the conclusion that there was nothing more that could be done by them and that the only hope for Dr. Harper lay in remedial measures alone. In a short time he left the hospital knowing well that he was a doomed man, that his disease could not be cured, and that his death must ensue soon, no matter what was done in the effort to avert it.

No braver fight was ever made by any man than by Dr. Harper. He took up his duties at the university as though nothing had happened or as likely to happen to him, and he was at all times apparently confident and cheerful. The X-ray treatment was elaborated in the effort to afford him relief and everything was done for him that the ingenuity and skill of his physicians could suggest. Although Dr. Harper never deluded himself with false hopes, he faithfully attempted whatever offered him a hope of recovery. At his condition would improve and then would come relapses that would leave him weaker than before. Despite all that was done for him, he lost ground steadily. The malady acted in such a manner that small surgical operations were necessary to afford him temporary relief.

Just before the holidays a portion of his strength came back, and it was thought that, under the influence of a milder climate, his health would improve. All preparations were made for the journey to the south, but at the last minute he was too feeble to attempt the trip, and it was abandoned. During the last fortnight his strength had failed rapidly and it was evident that the end could not be far off. Messengers were sent to his immediate relatives and all of them were at the house

ROCKEFELLER WILL CONTINUE TO CONTRIBUTE TO CHICAGO U.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Although John D. Rockefeller, whose liberal contributions furnished to President Harper much of the means for carrying out his plans for the upbuilding of the University of Chicago, is out of the city and could not be seen, his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., gave an authorized interview to the Associated Press tonight, in which, after expressing the shock the news of Dr. Harper's death had brought, declared that while his father had never committed himself to any definite policy with regard to the university, his interest in its future would continue to be expressed as it had been in the past and that those of Mr. Rockefeller's family who come after him will endeavor to carry out Mr. Rockefeller's wishes as to the welfare of the institution.

"The news of President Harper's death came as a great shock to my father and to his family," said young Mr. Rockefeller tonight. "My father will feel Dr. Harper's death most keenly, not only because of his official relationship with the University of Chicago, in which my father has taken such a deep interest, but because of the warm feeling of personal regard, friendship and admiration of the man, which is long sustained.

"Not only the University of Chicago, but the cause of education in this country has lost in the death of Dr. Harper one of its greatest friends and ablest promoters. Probably no greater organizer than Dr. Harper has ever occupied the position of president of a university in this country, if any country.

"Whatever the future of the University of Chicago may be will in large measure result from the courage and foresightedness as well as the wisdom and pre-eminent ability shown by its first president during the years of early history. Chicago, as a young university, needed just such energy and courage as Dr. Harper brought to it. The university, as it stands today, is but a part of the great educational scheme he had in mind. The city of Chicago itself is hardly large enough to hold the world's university it was his ambition to create. It is but natural that the interest my father has taken in the university will be continued in the future. Although he never committed himself to any fixed policy toward the university, he watched it grow from year to year and as its needs developed he did what he could to assist. This will continue, and those of his family who come after him will endeavor to carry out his wishes for the institution."

PAPERS DEVOTE MUCH SPACE TO MOROCCAN CONFERENCE

PARIS, Jan. 11.—With the approach of the Algeciras convention on Moroccan reforms the newspapers devote greater space to discussion of the subject. Public opinion everywhere is that the issue of the conference will be amicable and war talk has practically ceased. The Journal's Madrid correspondent sends an interview with the German ambassador at Madrid, Herr Von Radowitz, who is also the principal German delegate to the convention. The ambassador, the correspondent says, has no doubt of the favorable issue of the conference. He believes the tone of the proceedings is due to the Moroccan foreign minister not understanding or mistrust stating the words of St. Rene Taillandier, the French minister of Morocco, willfully or otherwise.

ROME, Jan. 11.—It is probable, according to a competent authority, that the Moroccan conference at Algeciras will result in one of the following: First, in a rupture of the [illegible] possibly leading to a [illegible] the solution of the several problems to the satisfaction of all the interested powers, or, third, in a more modest discussion which will leave the situation practically unchanged. It is generally believed that the first named result is very rather unlikely.

HARVARD IS TO WITHDRAW

DECLINES TO QUIT OLD FOOTBALL RULES COMMITTEE AND JOIN NEW ONE.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 10.—The Harvard athletic committee tonight, after passing a resolution that it was in favor of a conference of intercollegiate football, provided satisfactory changes can be made in the rules decided to withdraw from the national intercollegiate football rules committee and send a representative to the national intercollegiate football rules committee which was called by Chancellor McCracken of New York University. In a statement issued tonight the committee announced that Harvard would withdraw from the old committee in the hope that the other colleges would do likewise. That would leave but one football committee which would fairly represent the colleges in the country.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The Northwestern university has decided to adopt the graduate system of football coaching. Joe Hunter of Denver, a former quarterback on the Northwestern team, will be the school's first "graduate head coach." Hunter will come to Chicago within the next three days to meet the members of the board of athletic control and sign a contract for a term of years.

today when he died. Dr. Billings later issued the following statement:

"For two weeks Dr. Harper has failed rapidly. He and his friends and family recognized the approach of the end. His physical condition has been kept reasonably free from pain by the very moderate use of one of the derivatives of opium. His mind remained clear until the end. Physical exhaustion was the cause of death."

Dr. Harper left a statement outlining his wishes for the ceremonies of his funeral. A detail which he emphasizes both in writing and in person, was that no regular university exercise should be suspended except during the services of the funeral.

The body will remain in charge of the family until Saturday. It will then be transferred to Haskell assembly hall on the grounds, where it will lie in state until Sunday afternoon. The funeral services will be held at Mandel hall, at the university, Sunday at 2 o'clock.

The news that Dr. Harper had expired was received in the city with deep sorrow. He was a man popular with men of business as well as with men of letters, and all united in praising him as a man of remarkable brilliancy of mind, executive ability and kindness of heart.

The body will be buried in Oakwood cemetery, this city.

IRONCLAD HILL FRACTION STAKED

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 10.—That not all of the ground of Ironclad hill has been taken, although stakes have been driven there for over 14 years, is indicated by the filing of a location certificate for the Prospect claim today by W. E. C. Little and Nicholas Gardner. The Prospect is of fractional size and lies between the W. J. H., the Rome and the Norfolk. In this neighborhood and without one it is estimated to be worth $5,000 and if one were struck it would be worth many times this amount.

WARDEN SMITH IS DISCHARGED

DENVER, Jan. 10.—After presenting a petition through which he sought to retain his position, Louis R. Smith, timber warden, connected with the Gilbestem land deal, was summarily discharged today by the state land board. No reflection was made upon Smith's honesty either in the Gylleinsten deal or in other matters, but it was decided that the efficiency of the board would be increased by his dismissal. Secretary of State Cowie made the motion to discharge, and it was seconded by the governor. There was no opposition, although Attorney General Miller did not vote. No mention was made of Axel Swanson, timber appraiser, whom the board recently voted to censure in the Gylleinsten matter.

DEFENDANTS ADMIT TAKING DATTELBAUM FROM HOME.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 10.—Admission was made by Clayte Watt, Jack Fraim and Sam Haas, before Judge Seeds in the district court this morning that they called at the house of P. T. Dattelbaum and took him up on Mineral hill December 12 and urged him to confess that he took the $800 which he claimed had been stolen. They denied emphatically that they assaulted him, threatened to throw him down a shaft or hung him to a gallows frame. The trial probably will end tomorrow.

sufficiently set out there as already published.

Bearing on the charge that there is no water supply in Colon, Secretary Taft quotes from a dispatch from Governor Magoon of January 7, advising him that of the two temporary reservoirs for the Colon and Cristobal water supply (the latter place being not five minutes' walk from the center of Colon) one was completed on November 1 and the other the latter part of December with a total capacity of 80,000,000 gallons, amply sufficient for the present season; that there is no scarcity of water in Colon and that a reservoir with a capacity of 500,000,000 gallons is under construction. The statements of Mr. Stevens and Governor Magoon, Secretary Taft says, are at variance with those of the writer of the article.

Secretary Taft declares that the rate of wages is well advertised throughout the West Indies as ten cents gold an hour for a day of eight hours, which may be increased by diligent work to thirteen cents an hour. It is also untrue, he says, that a great prejudice exists against negroes in the railroad management.

Secretary Taft refers to the personnel of the court of the canal zone and says it would be difficult to select a better one for the duties it has to discharge.

As to the charge that officials were appointed through congressional or political influence, the secretary says the chief engineer categorically denies this and "I am able from the standpoint of Washington also categorically to deny it." Political influence, he says, has played no part whatever in the selection of appointees.

No Red Tape.

Secretary Taft declares that the charge of delay by "red tape" in the construction of buildings on the isthmus is shown to be untrue by the statement of the chief engineer and as to the allegation that the dredges in the Culebra cut were not working 10 per cent of their promised capacity, the secretary says there are no dredges within a long distance of the Culebra cut and that the instruments there being used are steam shovels.

Secretary Taft says the charge that quarantine officials construe the law and enforce it as far as possible to interfere with commerce is "utterly unfounded." The isthmus is being freed from danger of yellow fever and other contagious diseases, observes the secretary, by an effort unprecedented in the history of the world. Being surrounded on every side by disease-breeding ports it is of the highest importance, if the work done on the isthmus is to remain permanent, that the quarantine be strictly enforced. Natives of the isthmus, he says, regard themselves as immune from yellow fever and many other diseases, and therefore naturally resent the strictness of the quarantine against such diseases, but are greatly alarmed over the importation of the bubonic plague.

Secretary Taft repeats his former statement that the charge that a boat load of black women were imported from Martinique for immoral purposes is false and refers to documents to corroborate this denial.

Refers to Engineers.

Secretary Taft says the twelve members of the advisory board of engineers spent seven and a half days on the isthmus and made an extended examination of the proposed situs and its appurtenances, quite sufficient and minute enough, he asserts, to pass upon the proper type of the canal.

Shecretary Taft continues:

"Finally I come to the charges specifically made against the secretary of war. They consist in a refusal to accept the guidance of Tracy Robinson in visiting the purlieus of Colon and a refusal to have an interview with John Lundie, chief engineer of the electric and refrigerating plant in Panama. To the first charge I plead guilty."

Couldn't Get a Job.

Secretary Taft says Mr. Robinson is the owner of property in Colon.

"His animus against the government," says Mr. Taft, "is because it devoted its first attention to the expenditure of money in Panama and thus raised the value of property in that city and, secondly, that in the enforcement of the health regulations by the sanitary department in Colon, he found it necessary to complain that his vested rights were being interfered with. Thirdly, Mr. Robinson applied to the former chairman of the commission for a position at $5,000, declining the position of mayor of Cristobal at $1,800, and then applied to Governor Magoon for a position, but was told there were no vacancies."

Mr. Lundie, the secretary says, is an electrical engineer who was employed to visit the isthmus to superintend the construction of a plant for the generation of electricity and for the manufacture of ice by a private company. Mr. Lundie, he says, made application to become a member of the advisory board and urged his appointment with great vigor, but his application was rejected. Mr. Wallace was to be appointed as consulting engineer to make a report on oils and fuels, but Mr. Shonts disapproved the appointment and it was not made. Secretary Taft charges that Mr. Lundie objects seriously to the government's furnishing its own light and ice and insists that it is its duty to patronize his company, that he protested to Secretary Taft while the latter was on the isthmus and later wrote the president a letter.

Same of the Charges.

In the letter addressed to the president and referred to by Mr. Taft the writer says:

"I have never seen such a piece of mismanagement and utter demoralization as exists today on the isthmus of Panama."

He charges that Secretary Taft had a great deal of time for social entertainment while on the isthmus and said the engineers might as well have stayed at home and studied data furnished in book form. He referred to Mr. Shonts in uncomplimentary terms who, he says, seems to dictate the physical and moral tone of what is done on the isthmus. The United States, he declares, under such influence would become the laughing stock of the world.

Appended to Mr. Taft's letter is a memorandum of comments by Chief Engineer Stevens on these charges. He takes up specifically various statements and denies their truthfulness. Mr. Stevens also makes a general arraignment of parties from whom he alleges emanate "constant and apparently systematic misrepresentations."

ATTEMPT MADE TO BURN $5,000,000 SMELTING PLANT

CANON CITY, Colo., Jan. 10.—But for the extreme watchfulness of the night watchman, the $5,000,000 Empire zinc smelter, two miles south of Canon City, would have been burned to the ground last night. Two firebugs who tried to set fire to the dry mill were detected and fired upon, but escaped in the darkness. It is believed one of them was struck by a bullet, for blood stains on the snow were found.

The men carried a large quantity of straw under the mill, saturated it with coal oil, and then set it on fire. The watchman succeeded in putting out the blaze before any serious damage had been done.

Sheriff Esser and City Marshal Huston are on the trail of the incendiaries with the penitentiary bloodhounds.

OWNERS ARE BUYING COLORADO ROAD STOCK

DENVER, Jan. 10.—Much of the stock of the Colorado & Southern Railway company, according to the statement of a financial man, is being absorbed by the owners of the road. This is taken to indicate there is a possibility of the stock going to high figures in a short time. For several weeks the stock has advanced steadily and there has been much trading. The rise in value was at first believed to be due to the action of professional buyers, but on Seventeenth street today it is said it is the owners of the road who are taking it.

For the first five months of the fiscal year the increase of gross earnings of the company is 22 per cent. The net increase is 43 per cent. The actual amount of the increases are $929,176 gross and $496,062 net.

DURANGO POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER

DURANGO, Colo., Jan. 10.—Jesse C. Stansel, the policeman who shot and killed Sheriff William J. Thompson in a street duel here yesterday, is charged with murder in a warrant sworn out today by the dead man's brother, George W. Thompson. Stansel is in a serious condition from a wound in the right lung. The bullet has been extracted and he may recover.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST DOUGLAS CO. PAY.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 10.—Suit to obtain $16,000 for injuries sustained was started in the district court today by Joe Perry vs. the Dorcas M. M. & D. company. He says an arm was drawn into the machinery at the defendant's mill, near Florence, more than a year ago, and broken in two places.

BIG PAY DAY IN THE CRIPPLE CREEK DISTRICT.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 10.—Over $450,000 was distributed in wages among 4,500 miners and other workers of the Cripple Creek district today. Merchants report an improvement in business as a result of this distribution.

SCHMIDLAP TRIAL PUSHED AGAIN.

DENVER, Jan. 10.—Judge Samuel L. Carpenter has announced that Mrs. Helen Schmidlap will not be tried until January 29. Judge Carpenter, whose term to preside over the criminal division began this morning, has been ill several weeks and is not yet recovered sufficiently, he says, to undertake the hearing of a murder case, tedious as the Schmidlap trial promises to be.

DYING WIFE EVENS SCORE WITH HUSBAND

DENVER, Jan. 10.—By death Mrs. Augusta Weinberg has more than evened the score with her husband. He was given a partial victory in a long drawn-out divorce trial a few weeks ago, but she has had the woman's last "say." In her will, filed in the probate court, she left one Weinberg entirely.

In her will Mrs. Weinberg gives the principal portion of the property to her son Joseph and daughter, Mrs. Hattie Peyser. The remainder she distributes as follows:

Miss Bessie Lhuman, $1,000, a sister in Europe, $2,000; the sick and poor of Denver, $500; Temple Emmanuel, $500; Beth Madrash Hagodal, $2,000; for the mention of her name in memorial services, and for prayers for her parents, Jewish Consumptive Relief society, $500; Jewish National hospital, $500; Jewish Ladies' Aid society, $100.

SHERIFF JOHNSON GOES AFTER MRS. VAN WYCK.

WRAY, Colo., Jan. 10.—The most important move in the Haast murder case since the second inquiry into the killing of the young Holland woman began was taken today, when Sheriff Johnson started for the southern part of the county to get Mrs. Gerhardt Van Wyck, wife of the man who is under arrest charged with the murder. Mrs. Van Wyck was a witness at the inquest early in the week, and left town after being excused. It has always been maintained that the woman knew more of the crime than she cared to tell. Whether the sheriff has gone to arrest her or simply to request her to appear at the hearing again will probably not develop until he returns.

CHICAGO'S MAYOR TO VISIT DENVER TODAY.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 10.—Mayor Edward F. Dunne of Chicago will arrive in Denver tomorrow and for two days will be entertained at various meetings and receptions. He will be met at the depot on his arrival tomorrow morning by a reception committee.

Mayor Dunne will be entertained at luncheon by Charles S. Thomas and in the afternoon will be taken for a drive over Denver by John W. Springer.

There will be a reception for the Chicago executive at the Democratic club at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock there will be an informal dinner in Mayor Dunne's honor at the Savoy hotel.

Directly after the dinner Mayor Dunne will deliver an address at the Woman's club.

TRINIDAD TO HAVE NEW HOTEL.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Jan. 10.—A contract has been let for the erection of a new stone and brick hotel on the site of the old Trinidad house on North Commercial street. The building will be 87x140 feet and three stories high. The lower floor will be used for a store room and the hotel will occupy the two upper floors. There will be 45 rooms. The building will be erected by Tony Niccoli, a wealthy Italian, and will cost $30,000.

INJURED MEN RECOVER.

DENVER, Jan. 10.—Once almost within the grip of death, their skulls fractured in a manner almost invariably proving fatal, Jacob Weinskind, the Hebrew junk dealer who was assaulted by rowdies on Christmas day, and Patrick Martin, a hod carrier, with a large hole made in his skull made by a blow from an iron bolt, are both being brought slowly back to strength at the county hospital. Now the physicians say the chances are in favor of recovery, and should the prediction prove true, it will be little less than a miracle, for both men were almost dead when brought to the hospital.

HOW TO MAKE FLOWERS OF HUMANITY'S WEEDS

Dr. Alexander J. McIvor-Tyndall, the celebrated exponent of mental and psychic science, addressed a large audience last night in Majestic hall on the interesting subject of "The Mastery of Fate."

Dr. McIvor-Tyndall is a logical and forceful speaker, and has evidently given much profound study to the questions relating to human nature and what is variously termed "fate," "destiny" and "predestination." In his lecture last night he made clear some very obscure points regarding the fact of prophecy and the mental science postulate that "man is the maker of his own conditions." He said in part:

"In the work and the wisdom of Luther Burbank, the great horticultural scientist, we may find the solution to this question of predestination, or fate. Mr. Burbank says: 'Weeds are weeds only because they have been trampled upon, cramped, starved, tormented with insect pests and choked into the condition they manifest.' The gist and the hope, in Mr. Burbank's words, lies in the fact that human weeds may be made flowers by intelligent selection, by love and kindness and care."

The interest which has been demonstrated in Dr. McIvor-Tyndall's psychological lectures and demonstrations has led to a continuation of the series. On Sunday evening the famous scientist will again speak in Majestic hall, the subject being "Proofs of Immortality." The lecture will be followed by some demonstrations of the marvelous powers of this celebrated psychist.

MURRAY AND MACK.

An entertainment complete with originality and headed by comedians who are famous as originators and creators, is what local farce comedy lovers are promised next Tuesday evening when the famous original comedians, Murray & Mack, will appear at the Opera house with their brand new comedy, "Around the Town," which is promised funnier than anything they have ever attempted. This is a bold assertion, but their success this season justifies the claim. "Around the Town," while a farce comedy, cannot be classed with the average entertainment that is travelling under that guise, as it has a well-defined plot, and there is rhyme and reason for all the funny mishaps and incidents, which, being understood by the audience, makes the fun more enjoyable. Nor, of course, all the three acts are lightened and brightened by an abundance of music and concert, and individual specialties, but they are introduced with a view of fitting the surroundings and not dragging them in pell-mell just to fill up time, as is very often the case. The company is larger and stronger than ever and numbers among its roster many very capable actors.

ANITA RIO.

Without question, Anita Rio is the most artistic soprano that has been secured for these concerts, and the management struck high water mark when they engaged her for soloist. Her voice is of wide range and purity, beauty of tone, coupled with an art of the most finished type. ## BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Colorado Springs Readers Have this Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—They can't keep up the continual strain. The back gives out—it aches and pains; Urinary troubles set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Colorado Springs people tell you how they are:

F. J. Weber, miner, of 815 E. Willamette street, says: "It is over three years ago since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills through our Colorado Springs paper. They cured our boy, then eight years old, of kidney complaint from which he had been greatly annoyed for three or four years. He complained of his back hurting him so much, and he was troubled with urinary weakness. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved him so greatly that we followed up the treatment by giving him, I think, four boxes, when a cure was effected. If, during the three years which have gone by, there were slight symptoms of kidney trouble, they were so unimportant that they were scarcely worth noticing, much less requiring the use of any medicine. I cheerfully re-endorse the statement heretofore given, and advise parents who have children annoyed in this way to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

Plenty more proof like this from Colorado Springs people. Call at D. Y. Butcher Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

SHOULD SERVE THEIR TERMS.

IT IS earnestly to be hoped that Governor McDonald and the members of the state pardoning board will turn a deaf ear to the appeals being made in behalf of Miller and Dowd, two of the Denver election thieves who are now serving terms in the penitentiary at Canon City. These men were convicted and sentenced after fair trials, and if there is the just reason for complaint it is that their sentences were too light.

It is quite the common thing for the friends of a crook to wait a few months or perhaps a year or two, until the public indignation occasioned by his crime has abated and then intercede with the Governor in his behalf. At such times the enormity of the offense is likely to be forgotten, and much is made of the fact that the criminal has already suffered imprisonment, is thoroughly penitent and promises to be a good citizen thereafter. It is safe to say that in most cases of the kind where pardons are granted, subsequent events prove that a mistake was made in extending clemency. But such pressure is brought to bear, and the sentimental aspect of the matter is so thoroughly worked that an Executive is quite likely to heed the petition unless he be an official with the ability to see the right clearly and the determination to stand for it with the utmost firmness.

It is argued in behalf of Miller and Dowd that though dozens of men were implicated in the Denver election frauds of November, 1904, these are the only two who have been sent to the penitentiary. The others received jail sentences, or entirely escaped punishment. But this fact should make not the slightest difference to Governor McDonald and the pardoning board in their consideration of the case. Miller and Dowd were guilty of aiding in one of the most dangerous crimes known to the law—the stealing of an election, thereby thwarting the wishes of a majority of the voters as expressed at the polls. No doubt there are other men equally guilty, but this is no reason why the two crooks now in the penitentiary should be liberated. The only regret should be that all of them were not sentenced in like manner. The court made no mistake in inflicting such punishment on Miller and Dowd, and every consideration of good citizenship demands that the lesson taught the Denver election thieves be not minimized by the grant of pardons to these two men.

THE DECLINE OF LYNCHING.

THE ONLY encouraging thing to be found from a study of the statistics of homicide in this country in 1905 is the comparatively small number of lynchings. The record for the year recently ended is sixty-six, which is twenty-four less than in 1904. Figures compiled by the Chicago Tribune, covering a period of twenty-one years beginning with 1885, show that in that period a total of 3,126 illegal executions have occurred in the United States. This is an average of 148 a year. The largest number of lynchings occurred in 1892, when there were 230, and 1893 comes next with 200. The smallest number, excepting 1905, was in 1904, when there were ninety lynchings, while 1902 comes next with ninety-six.

A striking circumstance shown in the figures for last year is that sixty-five of the sixty-six lynchings took place in the South, and all of the victims in that section were negroes. Thirty-four of them were executed for murder, fifteen for criminal assault, and the other fifteen for "miscellaneous reasons." The fact that only 22 per cent of the victims of the fury of Southern mobs were accused of criminal assault shows how utterly baseless is the excuse made by those who seek to justify this form of lawlessness, that it is necessary to protect Southern homes. If lynching is ever to be condoned it is when done in punishment for this crime, and there are no ordinary circumstances under which it can justifiably be resorted to as an explation of murder or the other "miscellaneous" crimes for which so many people have been illegally executed.

The South has been harshly condemned for its lynchings, too harshly perhaps, when the criticism has been confined to those executions which concerned only cases of criminal assault. But no condemnation could be too severe for the scores of offenses against decency and humanity wherein men whose guilt was not always clearly established have been forcibly taken from officers of the law and executed, sometimes with the most fiendish torture, by mobs. There never was and never can be any reasonable excuse for such exhibitions of savagery. A different view of the matter might be taken if these illegal executions occurred after the law had failed to deal adequately with the criminal, but it is to be noticed that almost invariably the victims of mob fury have been lynched before the machinery of the law could be set to work.

This showing serves to emphasize a point to which The Gazette has frequently called attention, namely, that every manifestation of lawlessness serves to encourage further lawlessness. The South first established itself as a center of mob violence by adopting an unwritten law that all rapists should be lynched, and that negro perpetrators of crimes against white women should be burned alive. This practice bred a spirit of contempt for law and a familiarity with deeds of violence which made easy the next step, the adoption of lynching as the approved method of punishment for murderers and not infrequently for thieves and persons who had committed petty crimes. The result is that the South has become so used to revolting deeds of violence committed in the name of mob law that it no longer recoils with horror from the thought of taking upon itself the responsibility for the most abhorrent crimes.

The North and the West are by no means free from guilt in this matter, but all other sections of the country combined have not committed a tithe of the lynching crimes that are chargeable to the South. Even in the supposedly "wild and woolly" West the news of a lynching is received with a feeling of revulsion, but in the South these events are popularly regarded with perfect equanimity. Fortunately there are people south of Mason and Dixon's line, constantly becoming more numerous and influential, who abhor every form of mob violence and who deserve high honor for their efforts to remove this stain on the reputation of the South.

BACK TO THE SOIL.

A FEW months ago there was an announcement of a plan proposed by Commander Booth of the Salvation Army, whereby the congestion of population in the larger English cities would be in some degree relieved, and at the same time a desirable class of immigrants secured for Australia. General Booth proposed to send 10,000 honest, hard-working people to the South Pacific commonwealth, where they were to be provided with good land by the government at $2 an acre, with very easy payments. The scheme was dropped, however, because of the inability of the projector to secure the necessary funds for the payment of passage.

This plan has now been revived in a somewhat different form. Instead of taking the colonists to Australia or other foreign countries, they are to be removed from the large cities to the rural districts of England. An unnamed philanthropist of London is said to have given General Booth $500,000 with which to carry his plan into execution, and it is proposed to buy tracts of land suitable for cultivation on which the beneficiaries may make their homes. About five acres will be furnished to each settler and provision will be made for their support until such time as they may become able to take care of themselves. They will also be supplied with tools, which are to be paid for on the installment plan.

Experiments of this kind have been made before with varying degrees of success. The Salvation Army in America several years ago established three farm colonies, one at Fort Amity, Colorado; another at Fort Herrick, Ohio, and a third in California. All of them have been successful in that they have provided good homes and a comfortable living for people who theretofore were forced to eke out a bare existence in the slums of the large cities. But the greatest difficulty has been that these benefits are of necessity limited to comparatively a very small number of people. The few hundreds of families who have been made independent through the agency of the Salvation Army colonies are only an infinitesimal fraction of the total number in the larger cities of the land who are equally deserving but who are forced to remain in want and squalor because no chance for betterment presents itself.

Conditions in England are much worse than in this country. In 1901 the aggregate urban population amounted to 77 per cent of the whole, while 24 per cent of all the people of England and Wales lived in nine cities. It is declared that the English soil is exhausted, and that grain can no longer be raised in competition with the United States; therefore farming does not pay. For this reason large tracts of land remain uncultivated. General Booth's plan of dividing these tracts up into five-acre plots will give each family sufficient land to support it at truck gardening if the plot is well fertilized and thoroughly worked. In Japan, which is much more densely populated than England, five acres is considered a fair-sized farm, and the soil has been cultivated longer than that of England. General Booth's colonists ought to gain a good living by the new venture, and though the enterprise is not likely to relieve the congestion of London to any considerable extent, it will at least ameliorate the condition of the people who are transplanted to the country.

The death of William R. Harper, President of the University of Chicago, removes a man of the utmost usefulness from the educational world. Dr. Harper's most enduring fame will rest on his achievements as a Hebraic scholar, though he accomplished an extraordinary administrative work in organizing and directing the growth of the University which, in its present form, was made possible through the liberal donations of John D. Rockefeller. The incident of his career which will probably most excite the interest of the general public is the extraordinary fortitude and perseverance displayed in the closing year of his life. For the last twelve months Dr. Harper was virtually dying from cancer, but despite his affliction he continued his arduous duties with an unconquerable spirit which can not but inspire the highest feelings of respect and admiration in every lover of the heroic.

Chauncey M. Depew admits that on his next birthday he will resign from the directorate of most of the seventy-nine corporations with which he is connected, but he intends to hold on to his job in the Senate, which pays him less than the corporations. This shows that Chauncey is not wholly mercenary.

Count Witte is having difficulty in raising enough money to run the Russian government. Perhaps, if he can give good security and pay high interest rates, the Grand Dukes might be willing to lend him some of the money they grafted.

The report that the Russian revolutionists have captured a government strong box containing $60,000,000 is obviously untrue. The grand ducal grafters didn't leave that much money in the country.

An exchange wants to know what kind of a Congressman Mr. Longworth is. What has that to do with it? The country isn't interested in his abilities as a Congressman.

Congressman "Billy" Sulzer claims to have discovered that Croesus was only worth $11,000,000. Perhaps that is only what he reported to the assessor.

The Senate will again take up Senator Smoot's case this month. By the time the thing is settled Smoot's term will have expired.

Fifty-Six Hundred Years Ago Today

Saturday, 11th January, 1896.—Remained all day within quarters.

OPPORTUNITY AND ITS UTILIZATION.

Lamentations over "lack of opportunity" are less numerous than they were two or three or a few years ago, when the "consolidation of interests" was a little more fashionable than it is now, but there is still a good deal of talk about a much-to-be-regretted time when the demand for and the rewards of individual energy and ability were greater than they are at present. The surviving fountains of this substitute for conversation might well look about them at this very moment and count up the almost startling and certainly amusing number of royally remunerated positions that are either vacant or have an impatient eagerness to become so. It had been supposed that these places were extremely difficult and in days go recent that it is difficult to distinguish them from yesterday for the chance of filling into one of them ambitious but discouraged subordinates would hardly have given a cent. The impossible has happened, however, and, while the happening has involved something like a necessity of keeping these positions, for a while, at least, less royally remunerative than they used to be, nevertheless they will continue to pay extremely comfortable salaries, as salaries go, and they will continue to carry with them possibilities of increment, not to be despised even after legislative institutions have done their worst. It is a fact that for these attractive berths there is no dearth of candidates, but ideal candidates are somewhat scarce, according to all reports. Flattery, although this man or that man of this faction or that faction, readily selects a pleasing candidate, candidates that enforce themselves upon the situation by an obvious superiority to any of the other candidates, and do it through sheer competency and character, are not so readily found. To assert that anybody who would could have provided himself with such qualifications as that would, of course, be absurd, since neither competency nor character is wholly a matter of taking thought and exercise—and much depends on natural ability. That is something with which no man can supply himself, but it is true that by taking thought and exercise—anybody can make a little natural ability go much further than he can, for instance, by lamentation over the present scarcity of opportunity for those without capital and influence. That would be a very absurd waste of time, even if the scarcity existed, and as it doesn't the waste is anything less than imbecile. In this world, as a rule, the folks who don't get what's coming to them are rather objects of congratulation than of commiseration.—New York Times.

The Success of Sec. Hitchcock

At First Looked Upon as Unable to Cause Them Any Real Trouble, He Has Become a Veritable Terror to the Land and Timber Grabbers.

IT has been a bit of surprise to the old Washington of the Capital city to see the way in which the secretary of the interior, Mr. Ethan Allen Hitchcock, has made good in his land fraud prosecutions in the west. It was never supposed a year ago that the government could secure a conviction of any congressman or senator in Oregon. It was said openly that in attempting to fasten anything on Representative Williamson, the secretary had been unwisely advised, and was getting himself into a precipitous hole. In fact, Mr. Hitchcock's enemies seemed to be honestly pleased with the action of his department, believing that he was overreaching himself and that he would become discredited. On the contrary, he has done all that he claimed he would, and more, pursuing the thieves and grafters with the same relentless spirit of his distinguished ancestor who gained fame at Ticonderoga.

It has been quite amusing to watch the land fraud developments in the interior department, especially with their reference to Secretary Hitchcock as a cabinet minister. Mr. Hitchcock was one of President McKinley's cabinet, following the resignation of C. H. Bliss of New York. Mr. Hitchcock soon developed a penchant for reform in his department—real reform which made it hot for the rascals—and long before Mr. Roosevelt became president there was talk that Mr. Hitchcock would probably resign—as soon as he had finished with certain investigations being made at that time. Just who was responsible for the starting of these rumors may not be told. The sources vary, but the rumors nevertheless have been so constant, or rather so regular at intervals of four or five months, that it has become a huge joke in Washington to hear that a change is being considered in the interior department portfolio.

They Wish the Rumors Were True.

At one time, when the interior department is, for instance, investigating Indian scandals, it may be one class of prominent citizens who, with the wish father to the thought, hear that Mr. Hitchcock is likely to be succeeded by some one else. At another time, the representatives of the cattlemen, whose miles of barbed wire fence are being cut or removed by orders from the secretary of the interior, may be responsible indirectly for a rumor of Mr. Hitchcock's removal, and at all times the land and timber thieves of the far west are ready to fill in a gap when, there has been no newspaper comment on this subject for a reasonable period.

The amount of it is that the administration cannot get along without Mr. Hitchcock. His rugged honesty and determination to weed out the bloodsuckers and grafters who are despoiling the nation of its agricultural lands and its great timber resources have highly commended themselves to every patriotic man and woman who has followed his course, and, while his work is undoubtedly highly satisfactory to the administration and to the president who has himself expressed strong views on this question of land and timber grabbing, even if it should be desired to get rid of Secretary Hitchcock, it would be an extremely difficult and undiplomatic move to make.

Prosecutions Will Continue.

This work of unearthing land and timber criminals is a continuous performance at the interior department. It will be noted that while extensive proceedings have been started and in some cases consummated in several of the western states, there has been a large number of states left practically untouched, except that a dispatch from Washington, for instance, stating that John Jones, Thomas Brown and fifty-seven others have been indicted in Montana for extensive land and timber frauds, etc., etc., invariably includes an additional paragraph that "the interior department has also been investigating conditions in certain parts of Colorado and New Mexico and other western states, where evidences of the most gigantic frauds have been discovered, but that no publicity will be given in detail until the cases have been thoroughly worked up by the government."

Obviously with a head of a department in the midst of important fraud prosecutions amounting to a scandal, and with such brief announcements every now and then of other investigations covering practically all of the western states, it would never do to accept a man's resignation. The cry would go up that the cattlemen, or the timbermen, or the grafters generally had forced the secretary out of office.

Strong Friend of Government Irrigation.

Secretary Hitchcock is an ardent believer in and supporter of the government irrigation policy. He stated recently to a friend that he did not know of anything at this time which was of much more interest and importance, in the way of internal affairs, than the irrigation of the arid lands of the west. No man could have made stronger recommendations for the establishment of a government policy than he in his annual reports made during President McKinley's administration, when irrigation was looked upon as an iridescent dream. He called attention to the fact that the government hydrographic surveyors had found a western water supply running to waste which if stored and used for irrigation, would irrigate over seventy million acres of absolutely desert land and worthless for anything but scant stock grazing. It was not in keeping with the spirit of the times, he said, that this vast acreage of extremely fertile and unproductive land should lie idle. It should be reclaimed and made productive, creating new homes for thousands of citizens and adding vast sums to the wealth of the nation.

When Mr. Roosevelt became president, the question immediately became a live one, everybody got in behind it and put his shoulder to the wheel and the plan went through and upon a basis which can recommend itself in highest terms of all for the government simply advances the money for the building of these great irrigation works and the entire amount is paid back, and willingly, too, by the settlers, in easy installments.

The Secretary Was Ready to Begin.

The passage of the irrigation act found Secretary Hitchcock ready, although he was and is today, the most overworked man in the cabinet. His bureau of the geological survey had been getting ready for just such an occurrence, and the minute the money from the sale of western public lands became available, as provided in the act, videttes of surveyors and constructors were thrown out all over the west, and instead of spending five or six years in reconnaissances and surveys, as has been the history in every instance of similar undertakings in other countries, things began to be done at once, so that at this time, a little over three years after the passage of the act, settlers are already upon the land under some of the government projects, using the water for their crops, and paying back the cost of the works into the reclamation fund, for use over again by the irrigation engineers.—Maxwell's Talisman.

LETTING THE FUTURE TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

Professor Shaler has pointed out, in a book which he has recently written and had published, that we are exhausting many of our natural resources in a way which should cause us pangs of conscience if we were as regardful of those who are to come after us as it is our custom to frequently pretend that we are. Prof. Shaler has not exaggerated in any degree the profligate manner in which the present generation is squandering what might be rightfully termed the patrimony of mankind. The civilized nations of the world, and our own more especially, are in this respect a good deal like a young man who has come into the possession of a great fortune which his father, grandfather and great-grandfather have gradually accumulated as a family possession, and who, instead of considering the legitimate rights of those who are to come after him, plays ducks and drakes with it in such a manner that his descendants are forced to become the hewers of wood and drawers of water.

Rightly considered, the natural resources of the world are not the possessions of any single generation. We are all tenants of the land that our ancestors have occupied, and that we hope that our descendants for generations to come will find none the worse for our occupancy. But how do we fulfill these human requirements? The nitrate supply of the world, which is one of tremendous importance, will see its complete exhaustion in the next quarter of a century. In three-quarters of a century, at the present rate of production—and this is probably small, when compared with what production will be ten or twenty years hence—the copper supply of the United States—by long odds the largest in the world—will be used up. Our production of iron and steel is rushing onward at a tremendous rate of increase, but the years are not distant when all of the great deposits of ore in the Lake Superior region will be gone; when those in western Pennsylvania and Ohio will have been exhausted, and in a few generations the iron and coal supplies in the United States will all have become things of the past.

Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, has recently predicted a population of 300,000,000 people for the United States in the year 2000, but if we have anything approaching that number before the year 2200 practically all of our material resources will have been used up. There will be not even coal for domestic purposes, to say nothing of fuel for electric, steam and other purposes of manufacture and transportation. Suppose at the present time we were without these necessary commodities, what sort of a nation would ours be? In that case we should have to depend upon agriculture and such manufactures as hand power and water power could afford. Our fuel would be wood from the forests, which replaced themselves after they were cut down, while the costs of transportation would be such that, in the absence of immediate and abundant supplies of iron and coal, waterways, rather than land routes, would control exchange and distribution.

In commenting upon the spendthrift character of the present generations of American people in thus appropriating to their immediate use a limited supply of material resources it may be said that we are only a little worse than our civilized neighbors. We had a larger patrimony given us, and we are therefore spending ahead of them in the pleasing work of exhausting it. Two thousand years and more ago the civilized parts of the world were found in its tropical or sub-tropical regions. The more northern regions—for the most in the southern hemisphere is not yet of sufficient quantity to make it worthy of mention—was peopled by those who—with all due deference to them as our ancestors—we should now consider to be barbarous. Climatic conditions were chiefly responsible for this, for it was far more comfortable to live where the sun afforded heat all the year round than to endure the stress of rigorous winters. Two thousand years may seem a long time, and it is so, when compared with this span of a single life, but when one recalls that our world is many millions of years of age, that man has dwelt on it presumably at least a million years, 2,000 years become hardly more in the life of the human race than a single year. But in 2,000 years from now, in fact, in 500 years from now, we shall have practically nothing left of those natural resources in this area of land called the United States which now chiefly gives to it its present great industrial and commercial prominence.

It does not seem possible, under the conditions that will then exist, that its inhabitants can be a prosperous or even a highly intelligent people. If they should be as numerous as Mr. Takahira's forecast seems to indicate, the struggle for existence will be as keen and as exhausting with them as it has been for a good while past with the people of China. There a people of natural great industry and of exceptional intellectual training have made no use of the natural resources which their country possesses. They have consequently developed themselves along narrow lines. If our natural resources were exhausted, and that they certainly will be, our national development would of necessity be forced to correspond with, tolerable closeness to that of China, where it is only by the utmost frugality, the hardest work and the simplest life that the people can support existence. In spite of our Fourth of July orations and the assertions contained in them concerning the heritage of freedom and prosperity which we are to bequeath to those who are to come after us, the truth is we are devouring the resources which nature has given to the human race as fast as we can, and leaving only poverty of natural resources and a knowledge of our profligacy to succeeding generations.—Boston Herald.

A LONG-FACED CAT.

About five weeks ago there came to the Zoological Gardens a cat which was unlike any other cat previously exhibited by the society. This animal, which occupies a cage in the small mammals house, has now been named felis barbiri, and its home is believed to be in Borneo. The color of its short, smooth fur is hardly to be described as bay—it is gray—bay than brown, and the infiltration to chestnut is very slight indeed. The bay cat, as we must call it, is a pretty creature—short, legged and long bodied, with a thick, tapering tail of no great length.

For a cat the shape of its head is remarkable, and it has rather small ears. Instead of the short, round face of the typical cat, the face of this animal is comparatively long. But in its movements this curious "pussy" is true to the instincts of its race. In the stealthy tread, in the manner of opening the mouth, stretching the limbs and protruding claws, to say nothing of the method of carrying the tail, there is no mistaking the cat. This interesting inmate of the "zoo" is fairly tame and apparently in the best of health.—Pall Mall Gazette.

FIRED A SHOT AT HIS WIFE

FURIOUS CHARGES ARE MADE BY MRS. C. A. BEAMON IN A SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Shocking charges are made against Charles A. Beamon in the complaint which his wife, Lena Augusta Beamon, has filed in the county court as a prayer for divorce. Mrs. Beamon is allowed to bring this action as a poor person, in proof of her allegations of cruelty she avers that her husband pointed a loaded gun at her, threatening to kill her while she lay in bed in the morning; that he once broke a chair on her person; that he beat his children with a buggy whip. Their lives were endangered and that when she interfered he struck her in the face, a blow which knocked her down. Finally, she and her mother have 1505 West Virginia street. August 16 he fired a shot at her while passing her head by only a few inches. She does not know where he is now. They have five children.

Neither is the best looking tea always the sweetest drinking.

Teas are not infrequently made up, that is, forced to look pretty, to please the eye, but an undue amount of labor expended upon tea-leaves to make them look well injures the drinking qualities.

Our first consideration when purchasing teas is drinking quality, our second, good looks, for we fully realize that to win and hold trade our teas must please our customers' sense of taste, however well they may look to the eye.

Our stock comprises the teas of all tea-growing countries, but we especially recommend our Al Brand of Ceylon at 50 cts. a pound.

HOSPITAL GUILD ELECTS OFFICERS

AMENDMENT PROPOSED AT ANNUAL MEETING TO CHANGE NAME OF THE ORGANIZATION.

The annual meeting of the Protestant Hospital guild was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. S. Nichols, 105 North Nevada avenue. There was a large attendance of representative women of the city and much interest was manifested in the work of the organization.

The officers elected were as follows: President, Mrs. W. H. Hoagland; first vice president, Mrs. W. C. Robinson; second vice president, Mrs. F. W. Goddard; third vice president, Mrs. E. M. Marbourg; fourth vice president, Mrs. F. E. Castello; recording secretary, Mrs. W. S. Tarbell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. N. Beaty; treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Van Steeg.

Mrs. Goddard was appointed chairman of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Marbourg, chairman of the visiting committee and Mrs. Castello, chairman of the house committee. The auditor and chairman of the library committee are yet to be chosen.

Copies of the newly-issued constitution and by-laws of the guild were distributed. It was found that in some particulars there was a sentiment in favor of amendments. For instance, there was considerable discussion, and finally a motion was introduced, that the constitution be amended so that the name of the organization be the "Colorado Springs Hospital guild," instead of the "Protestant Hospital guild," as at present. The amendment will be acted upon at the next meeting of the guild.

Motion prevailed that the constitution be amended to provide for the meetings of the guild being held monthly, instead of quarterly. An amendment was also proposed whereby the ways and means committee may use the funds in the guild treasury for present needs of the hospital.

Upon adjournment, the hostess served chocolate and cake, assisted by her daughter, Miss Louise Nichols, and Miss Nellie Palmer.

WOMAN'S CLUB

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT HEARS AN INTERESTING PAPER ON THE SPOILS SYSTEM.

Mrs. William A. Gray, chairman, presided at the interesting meeting of the social science department of the Woman's club, held yesterday afternoon in G. A. R. hall. Miss Sarah Dowdle presented the civil service paper, taking as the special subject, "The Introduction of the Spoils System and Its Results."

The resignation of Dr. C. E. Spencer as a member of the executive committee was accepted, and Mrs. W. K. Sinton was elected to fill the unexpired term.

Announcement was made that the study class of the social science department will meet next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Gray, at her home, 1130 North Cascade avenue.

Mrs. A. S. Denis discussed a petition which is being prepared and which will be presented to the club women for signature. It requests that congress take steps to secure a change of the conditions in the Congo Free State where atrocities are being perpetrated by the Belgian traders.

Excellence Is Taught in a Dear Teacher.

So many parents of young children do not realize the danger from croup until they have had the experience of one severe case in their own home. To be awakened in the middle of the night by the peculiar rough cough and find their little one suffering from a fully developed attack of the croup and nothing in the house with which to relieve it is a lesson never to be forgotten. A good remedy at hand is of incalculable value in a time like this and nothing better can be obtained than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has been thoroughly tested in hundreds of cases and not only cures croup but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear it will prevent the attack. The fact that this remedy contains no narcotics makes it perfectly safe to give to the children. For sale by all druggists.

CONTRACT IS SIGNED

MANITOU AND COLORADO SPRINGS OFFICIALS CLOSE PIPE LINE DEAL.

WORK MUST BE DONE BY MAY 1, OR PENALTIES UNTIL NEXT FALL BY TERMS OF CONTRACT.

The water contract between Colorado Springs and Manitou was officially signed yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in Mayor Hale's office in the city hall. Mayor Henry C. Hall and City Clerk K. M. McMillan signed for Colorado Springs and Mayor Edward E. Nichols and Mark J. Gaskill, town clerk, signed for Manitou. There were no witnesses other than those whose signatures were attached. Slight changes were made in the phraseology of the contract in a few instances, but the terms remain unchanged.

When the Springs council meets this afternoon at 5 o'clock in special session to consider the proposition of letting the town of Ventura have 40,000 gallons of water, ratification of the contract with Manitou by ordinance and the means of paying Manitou $20,000, the amount specified by the contract, will probably be discussed at length.

Under the contract, the city pays Manitou $20,000 for the perpetual right to lay a 24-inch water main through Manitou and Buxton avenue, and the right to substitute a 24-inch main for either the 10 or 16-inch mains now down in Manitou streets. In case of a substitution, the city must either remove the pipes substituted or present them as they lie to the town of Manitou.

The hurry to make some settlement with Manitou lies in the fact that the work in Manitou's business streets must be done by May 1, otherwise the completion of the work cannot be begun until October 1. Work on the other boundaries may be prosecuted until June 1. If this work is not concluded by then under the contract it can in the future be carried on only between the months of October and April. That provision is to prevent Manitou's streets from being torn up during the tourist season.

In all probability the city will allow Manitou to get the money from some banking institution. That was suggested by Alderman Tucker at the last meeting of the council when the method of paying Manitou was briefly and informally discussed by Mr. Tucker. The contract provides that payment shall be made as soon as the contract is ratified, and that work may begin as soon as the money is paid.

Messrs. Doyle and Schwartz, the contractors, who originally began the work, are understood to be willing to complete the job at their former contract price, and the chances are that the city will authorize them to do so.

MAINTAINS SECRECY AS TO ITS ANNUAL MEETING

The deferred annual meeting of the Pike's Peak Hydro-Electric company was held at the company office in the Mining Exchange building yesterday, and directors were elected. G. A. Taft, general manager of the company, admitted that the meeting was held and that the directorate was practically the same as last year. However, he would not tell who was on the board; neither did he give reasons why the company wished to maintain such secrecy. He said that the company refused to give out the names of the directors last year.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

That part of your income which is spent at stores probably represents the "lion's share." If you invested as much in stocks as you spend at stores in the course of a year, you would read and study the stock quotations every day. Why not read The Gazette store ads, with the same care and attention?

PROPERTY IS EXCHANGED

THE REV. M. L. FINK TRANSFERS REALTY GIFT FOR A MANITOU HOTEL.

DIVINE HEALING HOME TO BE ALSO. MR. FINK IS HAPPY TO PROPERTY HIS WINTER RESIDENCE.

The business block at 520-6 Colorado avenue, Colorado City, valued at $[illegible], which was given to the Church of God by J. S. Wilson on November 11, has been exchanged for the Arlington hotel in Manitou, owned by Mrs. Nellie Stevens. Mrs. Stevens assumed the $4,000 on the Wilson block. Rev. Mr. Fink pays for the hotel. The transfer was made through the agency of W. H. Boyd, real estate, City.

The Rev. Mr. Fink will occupy the Arlington hotel this winter and will rent the rooms to tourists next summer. It was announced several weeks ago that the property belonging to the Church of God, of which Mr. Fink is pastor, would be sold and the proceeds be used to establish a divine healing home in Colorado Springs. It was planned to buy the Loma Vista, a 20-room furnished apartment house at Yampa street and Wahsatch avenue.

According to Rev. Mr. Fink, the Divine Healing home will be maintained in its present quarters at 1020 East Pike's Peak avenue.

J. S. Wilson, who made the addition to the Assembly of God, did so because he believed that he had been divinely healed when at the point of death.

HIGHWAYMAN WAS FOILED

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP ON HUERFANO VIADUCT FRUSTRATED BY THE ARRIVAL OF STREET CAR.

An attempted hold-up of more than ordinary daring was frustrated last night when four young negroes so suddenly interrupted the highwayman's plans as to cause him to run away.

The reported attempt at robbery took place at 9:30 o'clock on the Huerfano street viaduct near the Denver & Rio Grande depot stairway. It was this stairway which suddenly brought the four colored men to the fore, to the consternation of the hold-up.

There was a strong combination of circumstances working against the fruition of the highwayman's plans. One of these was the arrival on the scene of street car No. 59, westbound, in charge of Conductor Abe Parks and Motorman Pat Grady. They did not see the affair, but the motorman heard the shout of the man who was being held up. The negroes emerged from the stairway at exactly the same instant that the highwayman ordered the pedestrian's hands up.

Seeing the approaching car and the negroes, the pedestrian threw his hands up, but gave a loud shout of distress as he did so. Instead of making for the car, as had been their intention, the negroes ran toward the hold-up and his victim. Hearing hasty footfalls behind him, the highwayman broke into a run. The negroes then boarded the car, but not until the pedestrian had thanked them cordially for their interference. They did not ask his name and the case was not reported to the police.

WEDDING TAKES PLACE EARLY IN FEBRUARY

The marriage of Miss Florence Colgate Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Craig, 821 North Weber street, to Mr. Arthur E. Whitney, of New York city, will take place in this city early in February. Mr. Whitney, who arrived in Colorado Springs on New Years Day, will shortly return home, as business interests demand his presence in the east, but will return to claim his bride before St. Valentine's day.

Last evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Betty Burns became the bride of Mr. A. W. Gray, at her home, 26 East Buena Ventura street, the Rev. Arthur N. Taft, rector of St. Stephen's church, officiating. A friend of the bride, Mrs. Hammond, of Denver, was the matron of honor. A small circle of relatives and friends were witnesses of the impressive double ring ceremony. Mr. Samuel Jessop played the wedding march. The house was artistically adorned in white and green. A supper was served previous to the departure of the bride and groom on a brief wedding trip. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Gray will make their home with the bride's mother at 26 East Buena Ventura street.

K. M'KENZIE IS PRESIDENT OF THE ACACIA G. M. CO.

H. H. CLARK AND CO. GAIN CONTROL ON BOARD BY OF TRUSTEE CLARK—NEW OFFICERS.

Directors of the Acacia Gold Mining company met yesterday afternoon and elected K. McKenzie president and superintendent, W. J. Chinn, vice president, K. Macdermid, secretary and Z. Blair. All of the directors, Mrs. Mae S. M. Robinson, K. McKenzie, W. J. Chinn, G. A. C. Duer and K. Macdermid, were represented at the meeting.

The company owns the Burns claim, 9.91 acres, and Morning star, 10.18 acres, on Bull hill, in the Cripple Creek district.

The lease of the Exposition company on the south end of the Burns claim has been cancelled, and a lease has been granted to Henry H. Clark & Company on the basis of 30 per cent royalty. Under terms of the lease, the shaft, which now is 450 feet deep, must be put down to the 1,000 foot point, within eighteen months.

A contract has been made for sinking 300 feet and work will be begun immediately. It is known that three different veins from the Findley enter the south end of the Burns claim and there will be the objective. C. N. Crowder, county assessor of Teller county, is manager of the leasing company.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY J. F. CAMPBELL

F. J. Campbell, of the Vindicator Gold Mining company, has issued the following statement, which contains the facts as given correctly in The Gazette heretofore, concerning the Golden Cycle-Independence Consolidated deal:

Denver, Colorado, Jan. 9, 1906.

The minority stockholders of The Golden Cycle Mining company on yesterday concluded a sale of their stock interests in said corporation to John T. Milliken and his associates, of St. Louis.

In making this sale, The Golden Cycle minority have adjusted their holdings among themselves in such a way that Mr. A. E. Carlton and Tucker, Ballard & Company received cash for their stock, and Messrs. Frank J. Campbell, H. N. Wood, Charles Sigel, Jr., F. L. Sigel, A. J. Zang, G. S. Wood, E. E. Quentin and others have formed a syndicate and purchased from Mr. Milliken 1,350,000 shares of the capital stock of The Independence Consolidated Gold Mining company. There has been no consolidation with the Vindicator company, and the Vindicator company is not the purchaser of the Milliken stock.

The new officers of The Independence company are H. N. Wood, president; W. S. Montgomery, vice president; Charles Sigel, Jr., treasurer.

For the present, the property of The Independence Consolidated Gold Mining company will be worked independently, but it is contemplated ultimately that a consolidation will be made with the Vindicator company that will be to the mutual advantage of the stockholders of each company. A plan of consolidation will be offered to the stockholders of each company on a just and fair basis. The working of the properties under one management will result in the saving of the large expenses of separate management, and it is believed it will become one of the largest producers and best dividend payers in the Cripple Creek district.

The Vindicator company has paid regular dividends for the past eight years, and at the present time is in better financial condition than for a long time. The profits for the past three months have exceeded $70,000. There are fourteen different pay-ore shoots in the 1,000-foot level at this time, and the future prospects are very bright.

The statements in the various papers that The Findley company and A. E. Carlton are interested in the purchase of the Hull City placer are wrong, and that a part of the property will be decided to The Findley company is also incorrect.

F. J. CAMPBELL.

GRACE GOLD CO. HAS LEASED EXTRA CLAIM

The Grace Gold Mining and Milling company has leased the Extra claim, adjoining the Santa Rita, on Squaw mountain. Work will begin in the 300-foot shaft, which has reached a vein of $15 ore, which promises to be a good cyanide proposition.

The Glory of Maternity.

Nature, if left alone, will cure her itself; this might have been true at some prehistoric time, but since for ages it has not been left alone but has been bound down and fettered by the silken laws and mandates of society, it can no longer care for itself.

At no time does the truth of this appeal to us more strongly than at that period of a woman's life when she is about to become a mother.

Nature must be assisted at this crisis, and for this very contingency has been devised that the muscles and tissues impaired and weakened as they have been by the dress of our higher civilization, may fulfill without undue suffering and possible lasting harm, the functions for which the Creator intended them.

Mother's Friend by its kindly offices softens and relaxes these parts and enables the mother to be, to pass through the parturient period and actual crisis with practically no suffering to herself and an easy delivery of her offspring.

It is applied externally as a massage, and is a non-irritating, soothing, and most efficacious liniment. At all druggists. Our book "Motherhood" sent free on request.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Sales on the mining stock exchange yesterday were greater than for many weeks and the cash value represented was the largest in some time. The market was exceptionally strong, with the exception of Banner and Anchor in the prospect list.

Dante started the ball rolling with an exchange of 30,000 shares at prices ranging from 6 7-8 to 7 1-4. Findley soon followed and under heavy sales reached 93 1-2. There was but one sale of Vindicator, which commanded 90 cents, an advance of 5 cents over the last previous sale, making a gain of 10 cents within the past few days.

Banner declined from 4½ to 2½ under sales of 24,000. Under sales of 11,000 shares, Anchor dropped from 2 1-4 to 1 7-8. The remainder of the market was strong. Total shares 1[illegible], cash value, $24,000.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong.

He neglected to take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first signs of Kidney trouble, hoping it would wear away, and he was soon a victim of Bright's disease. There is danger in delay, but if Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at once the symptoms will disappear, the kidneys are strengthened and you are soon sound and well. A. H. Bass, of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night, and had a severe backache and pains in the kidneys and was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.

PROFITS TAKEN — MARKET STEADY

Market Opens Strong and Brokers Dump Stocks in for Gains.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—There was a further contraction in the activity of the dealings in stocks today and the disposition to take profits was [illegible] clearly manifest during yesterday's profit-taking. However, the market [illegible] in a very orderly and [illegible] manner and without [illegible] the disturbance of prices. The [illegible] still showed itself under effective control so that the realizing was conducted with excellent success. [illegible] were opened high all around. [illegible] ward spurt at the beginning extended to a wide margin in some cases. [illegible] was evidently for the purpose of affording a better basis for selling stocks and the process was immediately begun. This was a striking demonstration of the continued power of the organized speculation to sustain prices. The same force was perceptible during the day in the effective stationing of floaters of the marking up of specialty stocks which served as a brake on the downward course of the general market under the process of realizing. There was no news to account for the day's movements of prices. The principal influence in today's money market was the response to the decided relaxation abroad. Discounts eased both in London, Paris and Berlin and London exchange moved up briskly in Paris. This operated to prevent the expected point on an engagement of gold in New York for export to Paris in spite of the further rise in foreign exchange in New York. Later gold exports are still expected. Another item in the situation was the recovery in the price of silver to the level at which gold was previously sent to Mexico from here to take Mexican coins out of circulation. The change on New York also shows a tendency to decline again. The suspension of a Cleveland (Ohio) stock exchange connection has some disquieting effect. The annual meeting of the American Sugar Refining company brought disappointment to some speculators who had counted on an extra distribution of profits. The Canadian Pacific group made very conspicuous gains for carrying out a combination. Amalgamated Copper made good headway against the weight of the selling, while there were various other points of strength amongst the railroads and specialties. These proved their sustaining power throughout, but prices gravitated at a lower level in spite of frequent rallies. The closing was easy after one of these rallies and with some stocks at the lowest.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,855,000. United States 2s coupons, declined ⅞ per cent on call.

MARKET STEADY

Chicago Grain Market Firm Yesterday—Trading in Provisions Heavy.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The market was firm during the first hour on reports of higher prices at Liverpool and stronger news from Argentina to the effect that the movement of the new crop was delayed by wet weather. Another influence contributing to a strong market was the disappointment of the bears after May had opened unchanged to a shade higher at 8[illegible] and had sold up to 8[illegible]. After May had opened unchanged to a shade higher at [illegible] the price was big up to $1.[illegible] before offerings were made in any good volume. When May was touched by bears, bears sold vigorously and [illegible] for leading bulls, but large operators of world on the market. This brought about a reaction and May [illegible] Later part of the day was taken on covering by shorts. The market closed fairly steady with May at 8[illegible].

Small local receipts, lower outside markets and firm cables created a firm market in corn. May opened unchanged to a trifle higher at 44½ to 44⅝@45, sold up to 45½ and closed at 45.

Trading in oats was quiet and the market was steady. May opened unchanged to a shade higher at [illegible] and closed at 32½.

The provisions market was firm for the greater part of the day. Local bears were the principal purchasers and the volume of trading was large. At the close May pork was up 10@12½c at $[illegible], lard was up 2½@5c and ribs were 5@7½c higher.

PERSONAL.

IN THE SUIT OF
JAMES DOYLE VS. JAMES F. BURNS.

I feel that in the state of Colorado there are a hundred people, or more, familiar with the personal relations existing between James F. Burns and myself during the years 1901 and 1902, who would cheerfully aid and assist me with the facts that they are possessed of, but withhold them because they do not know how I would receive their tenders of the same. I want to say here that I will appreciate all such tenders, and receive them in the proper spirit. I am after all evidence that I can use to establish the fact that we were partners during the years mentioned. I wish to say that I am a long way from being broke, and hope to be able to offset the power of the money that belongs to me with which he is fighting me, by a mass of evidence that will make him lay down and do the right thing.
